

Women Working With Wood Association

www.w4.org.au

To support and promote women's involvement in the design and making of fine furniture and wood craft

Newsletter 48 May 2013

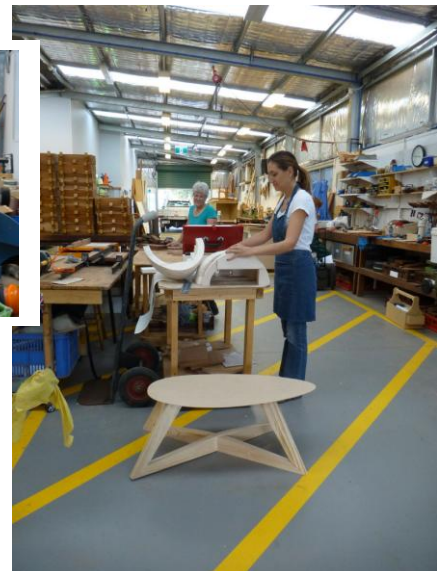

Hi all,

Saturday afternoons at the Stirling Men's Shed are really buzzing. Feels great as you can see from this small assortment of photos.

As explained in the April newsletter the W4 Association is required to have an OH&S policy in place to meet insurance requirements. Three items are being sent to you with this newsletter: the full policy bearing the W4 logo; a modified copy of the Men's Shed policy with their logo, and a Safety Contract.

For those using Stirling Men's Shed: Please read both their policy and ours and bring copies to the next session and we will have a quick rundown.

Cheers, Bridget

from Shani Holster, Manager, Forest Heritage Centre

The Forest Heritage Centre is always on the look out for fine wood / furniture produce to sell through our gallery. Currently we are running on the low side.

We would love to have items ranging from modern to classic, traditional to artistic from W4 members .

We have had good success with coffee tables but would also love to see some quality chairs, wine racks, hall tables, dining tables, etc. We would also like smaller items: jewellery boxes, platters, light shades, chopping boards etc.
