

Women Working With Wood Association

To support and promote women's involvement in the design and making of fine furniture and wood craft

Newsletter August 2014

The Wood Show was a great success, of course. Dorothy, Liz, Robyn and Anna: as always the consummate setter-uppers... the excellent display of the stools and spoons and jewellery our colleagues made ... Vicki's carving attracted much (deserved) interest...and the weekend generated income from the sale of raffle tickets, pot stirrers, etc.

But, I think we all agree, its greatest gift to W4 is the women who have been inspired to start/continue their woodworking with W4. And we came up trumps on that score, as is quickly apparent from the trail of photos from the Bug Hotel workshop Colleen ran for the new recruits (and one re-inspired recruit) at our next session at the Stirling Men's Shed.

Good events coming up, too...

Silk screening on wood With Megan Christie

Megan is an outstanding woodworker – you have only to look at her website:
<http://www.meganchristiedesigns.com/>.

She's also a long standing member of W4 and has offered to talk to us about her latest innovation: silk screening on wood at her Mundijong studio
